

STREET PROGRAM gets 1962 start at Mokena. Last year the village completed improvement of Front street between Wolf road and Mokena street. This year the improvement of Front street is to continue from Mokena to Division street. The street is being widened and there will be curb and gutter. Work on this section was begun Monday of this week by Trygg Paving Co. The public Service Co. moved its poles back to the edge of the sidewalk several weeks ago. Property owners on the north side of the street between Mokena and Division are preparing to have a new sidewalk installed the length of the block. Walks are also needed on the south side, it was pointed out, but such an improvement is up to the property owners to initiate and pay for, it was explained. As may be seen from the picture the street is being dug out and a new base formed. (Semmler Press Photo)

BULLETIN

The Will County Board of School Trustees Tuesday night approved the annexation of Cherry Hill School District No. 212 to New Lenox School District No. 122. Both Boards approved the merger. The petition to annex Marley School District No. 125 to New Lenox School District was continued to Sept. 4. There is apparently no opposition to this move.

Senator Dirksen also is to speak at Mokena. The meeting there will be at the Mokena Community park. Should there be rain the meeting will be held at St. Mary's Social Center, 195th and Wolf road, according to those in charge. The meeting is open to everyone.

Mrs. Rowswell was born in Manhattan and came to New Lenox in 1929. Her husband, George H., who preceded her in death, was a Manhattan township farmer for many years.

Surviving Mrs. Rowswell are three sons, Paul, of El Paso, Tex., Arthur and Theodore, both of New Lenox.

Also surviving are six grandchildren and a brother, Arthur Paul, of Bradenton Beach, Fla. A son, Howard, preceded her in death.

Frankfort Street Repairs Nearing Completion

Work on the repair of Frankfort streets under the direction of Trustee Milton Subbert is nearing completion, he reported at the regular meeting of the village board Monday.

The program was launched several weeks ago with the bulk of the cost coming from Frankfort's share of the motor fuel tax. The village is buying the stone, has rented equipment to do the scarifying and grading and accepted the bid of the Wunder roadbuilding firm of Plainfield to prime the streets and apply the asphalt.

Street Commissioner Subbert told board members Monday that the program will use more stone than was originally estimated. At the outset 445 tons of stone was purchased but this amount will not suffice, Subbert said. It probably will require an additional 100 or more tons.

Subbert said that in preparing the streets for priming and the application of asphalt and chips they were thoroughly soaked with water and packed hard by rolling. This will give a good street, he said. Priming dry stone is a waste of money and material, he said. Where this has been done, he added, wash-board streets have resulted. He had a complaint to make, however, relative to the high handed tactics of drivers who refuse to cooperate with the paving crews. Barricades are run or knocked down and broken and in some instances motorists have run over lawns to avoid barricades.

Subbert also pointed out that the maintenance of Locust street which carries the bulk of the traffic to the match factory will be a serious problem.

This road gets heavy use, he said. Scores of heavy trucks use the road daily in trips to and from the plant and the cars of workers and visitors add to the burden of keeping up the road.

The board received notice from the Banner Disposal Service Co. that the cost of garbage collection will go up. A count of the homes and business places served by the firm show a total of 388 units, Village Clerk Walter Pfaff reported to the board, quoting from a letter by the company. At $1 per unit the cost of garbage collecting will not run the village $388 a month instead of $291. The $291 figure, Pfaff explained, was based on an old count.

Arthur and Donald Melcher, brothers, appeared before the board to ask for a tavern license. They would like to have the license now held by Ted Massey. Massey is not yet using the license.

Mayor George Sangmeister explained to the Melchers that liquor licenses cannot be sold. They could lease a site for a bar from Massey, if such a plan was in their minds the mayor pointed out but Massey could not transfer his license to them. If any licensee gives up his license anyone who hoped to obtain it would have to apply to the village board. Several persons could apply, it was said, and the board could assign it to the one it desired.

Mokena-Frankfort Area Has Great Industrial Potential

The Mokena-Frankfort area, zoned and classified under a master plan, is a great natural set-up for manufacturers and business firms who would anticipate the future.

Only 29 miles from Chicago's loop, the Mokena-Frankfort area is one of the best and the last of the "open spaces" available for the population expansion that is certain to come.

The days are gone when communities can spread out in an haphazard manner about a central portion given over to business and commerce.

To make these facts known to manufacturers and industrialists the Mokena Chamber of Commerce plans to publish a brochure and otherwise advertise the situation in an endeavor to attract plants to the area.

A committee headed by Walter Welsch, retired lumber dealer, is collecting a fund to underwrite the costs of this promotion. The goal is $2,000 and approximately half of that amount has been raised to date.

The experts predict that in 10 years there will be 25-million more motor vehicles (passenger cars, buses, trucks) in use than are operating today in the United States. It is predicted that the number of such vehicles will total 101-million by 1972.

This not only means more highways must be built as well as further development of means of mass public transportation but it also means careful planning must go into the design and controlled growth of communities.

Decentralization of the city-complex will be one of the keys to the solution, the experts say, declaring that suburbs must be planned to become self-sufficient and of easier access.

Area and city planning, not too long ago a more or less academic subject, is now a practical necessity if a community is to progress.

The Mokena-Frankfort area not only has a master plan for its orderly development but has a great transportation potential, with ready access to major highway, rail and water facilities to serve industry and commerce.

A glance at any map showing the states around Lake Michigan reveals that the Mokena-Frankfort area is in the center of what is called by geographers and planners as the Golden Triangle with LaGrange at the north, Chicago Heights at the east and Joliet on the west.

A look at this same map will show the many major highways that link this area with the north, the south, the east and western portions of the nation. Short hauls will deliver products to or bring materials from such railroads as the Rock Island; the New York Central now joining with the Pennsylvania the Wabash; the Santa Fe; the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio and Elgin, Joliet & Eastern; a road specializing in freight. Also easily available are the Calumet-Sag channel, the Illinois Waterway that links the Gulf of Mexico to Lake Michigan, and of course, Lake Michigan itself.

Federal Route 80, the new expressway that will extend from the east coast to the west coast will have an interchange with U. S. 45, a mile and a half from Mokena. FAI 80 is under construction west of Joliet and the portion between Hazel Crest and a point just east of Joliet will be completed by 1964 with Cook county's portion scheduled for completion in 1963.

There are many advantages for plant operators to locate in this area, not the least of which is the practical elimination of cross-hauling — the needless hauling of raw materials and/or finished products due to poor location of plants.

The Mokena-Frankfort area is on direct routes from most points where manufacturing activities are concentrated and distances short compared to north shore locations.

A survey by the Public Service Co., the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., the Northern Illinois Gas Co., and the chancery office of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Joliet, forecasts a tremendous population increase for the area by 1972.

Their projections show a population of 45,000 in the area, including New Lenox which is four miles west of Mokena, within the next 10 years and the utility firms believe the estimate is too low on the basis of the expected growth surge immediately following completion of FAI 80 thru the interchange at U. S. 45.

Such a population should assure manufacturers of an adequate labor pool.

Value Estate At $165,000

Elmer Nelson, Frankfort, a retired farmer who died July 19, this year, left an estate valued at $165,000, according to a petition filed with his will in the Will county probate court.

The will directs that the estate, less three minor bequests, shall be shared equally by his sister and four nephews of his late wife, Selma.

The sister, Mrs. Esther Trost, is a resident of Joliet. The four nephews are, William Stege, of Tinley Park, and Gilbert, Lester, and Herbert Stege of Matteson.

A bequest of $1,000 is left to Powhan Lodge, No. 29, Order of Odd Fellows, Joliet; $500 is left to St. Peter's church of Frankfort and $200 to the Pleasant Hill Cemetery Association.

Attorney George E. Sangmeister is named in the will as executor and August J. Santoro is the attorney.

Mr. Nelson formerly lived off U.S. 45 and his farm is now included in the Arbury Hills subdivision. He sold it to the developers several years ago and since then had resided at Frankfort.

Expect 148 For Kindergarten

Arnold Tyler, superintendent of the New Lenox schools, reports pre-registration records indicate 148 children of the district are eligible to attend kindergarten classes for the 1962-63 school year.

Kindergarten classes will be conducted on a half day basis with morning and afternoon sessions at the Oakview and Haven schools. Geneva Oster and Patricia Otis are employed as teachers.

Parents who have children eligible for kindergarten classes are to report at the school 8:30 to 10 a.m., Sept. 4 to complete registration, arrange schedules and pay fees.

Regular kindergarten classes will begin Sept. 5.

To be eligible to attend kindergarten classes during the 1962-63 school year, a child must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1962.

School Book Rental Fees Up This Year At Mokena

Rental fees on school books in the Mokena public schools will be up this year in all grades except the 8th, it was announced by the administration.

The increase is necessary, it was pointed out, because of the raise in price of textbooks. This will be the first increase in rental fees, however, since 1956, it was pointed out.

Textbooks will be rented at one-third the regular retail price and workbooks are included in the package at the wholesale price they are purchased by the school.

Pupils can purchase textbooks outright, if desired, and of course may buy the workbooks, too.

The rental fees to be in force this year are:

Grade	Fee
1st	$8.75
2nd	6.80
3rd	7.55
4th	7.45
5th	8.25
6th	8.70
7th	9.40
8th	9.15

Parents are asked to pay the book rental charges the week before school opens, Aug. 27-31. The office at Willowcrest school will be open to accept payments.

Student insurance rates are $1.50 for children in the first six grades; $2 for seventh and eighth grade pupils.

School will open Sept. 4 at 9 a.m. for a half day session for all students. Teachers will meet at the school Aug. 30 for a workshop session and first grade pupils are to report at 9 a.m. that date to get oriented.

Children who have moved into the district since the close of school and have not yet registered for the fall term are requested to do so immediately. All youngsters in the fifth and first grades are required to bring proof that they have undergone physical and dental examinations this summer. Health cards for such examinations are available at the school.

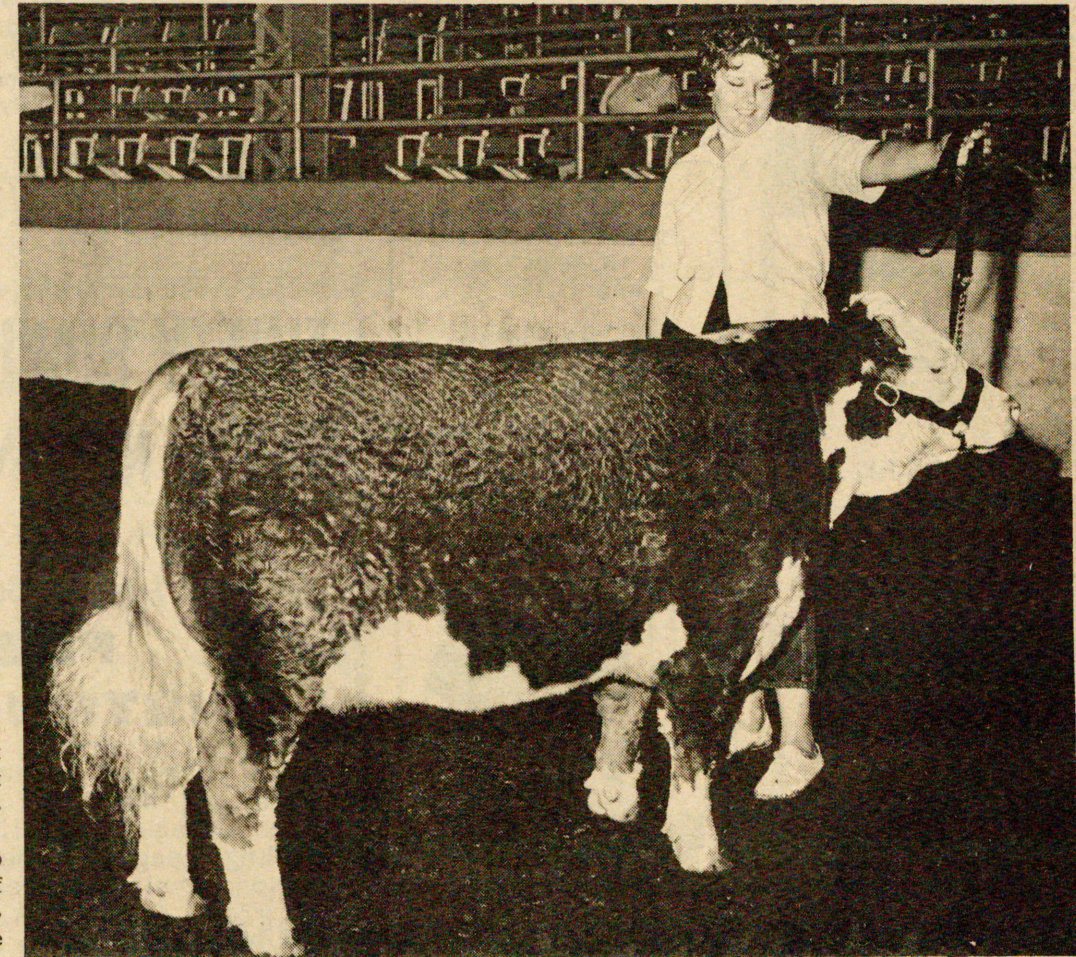

At its meeting last week the Mokena grade school board approved a tax levy of $93,000—made up of $65,000 for the educational fund and $28,000 for the building fund.

The board also authorized the drafting of a plan for an arboretum at Willowcrest school to be used in science and nature study.

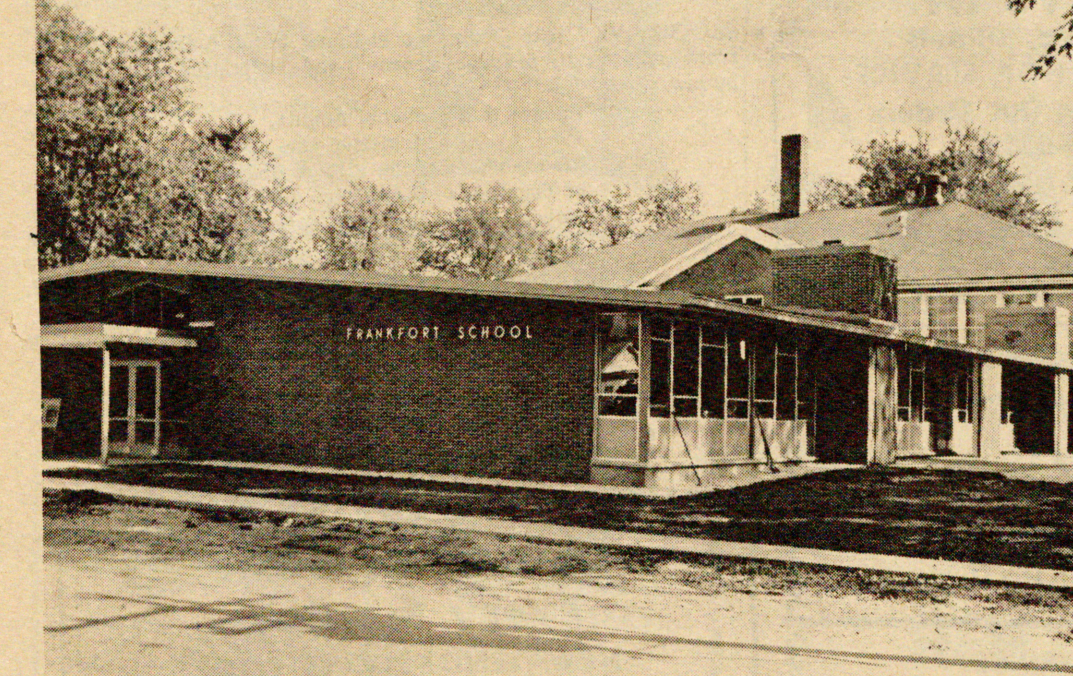

The PTA was granted permission to hold another polio immunization clinic at Willowcrest school.

The new superintendent, James Ennis, will maintain his office at Willowcrest school this year so he also will serve as principal of the building.

GRAND CHAMPION Hereford female of the junior department of the Illinois state fair was shown by Marilyn Matasovic, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Matasovic, Mokena, and she has high hopes that her summer yearling will win more honors at the International Stock Show in Chicago this fall. It has been a long road for Marilyn. She began showing cattle at the state fair when she was 10 years old and was back every year since and this was her first grand champion. Her sister Linda has had two winners. Linda is now a student at the University of Colorado. Marilyn will be a senior at Lincoln-Way this fall. She also showed a steer at state fair that won a second and a third and she will also show him at the International. This heifer that won the grand championship is a beauty. (Shirer Photo)

Referendum

The Illinois Agricultural Association today urged an all-out farmer vote in the Aug. 30 national wheat marketing quota referendum "to more correctly reflect the farmer's attitude toward government control programs."

William J. Kuhfuss, IAA president, pointed out that not all wheat growers are eligible to vote in the referendum and that in the past only a small percentage of those who are eligible actually bothered to vote.

According to referendum regulations, only farmers growing more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain are eligible to vote. Kuhfuss pointed out that in Illinois about 74 per cent of the wheat is produced on farms seeding 15 acres or less and 26 per cent on farms seeding more than 15 acres of wheat.

"We are encouraging every eligible voter in the state to cast his ballot," Kuhfuss said. "The stay-at-home voters are in effect giving consent by default to continuation of government controls. Congress needs to understand how farmers feel and a full vote will give better direction."

Teen Club Asks Support: Had to Cancel Its Dance

MOKENA 5740

The street dance, scheduled for Aug. 11, under the auspices of the Teens club, had to be cancelled due to the lack of sales of tickets for the affair. This group can be the answer to the everlasting question of our young people, "What is there to do?", but they need the support of everyone to make this club a success. A spokesman for the community urged that this failure of interest "be a once only happening," and asked support in the future. Last week it was announced that the Arbury Hills Kindergarten Organization would sponsor a forthcoming bake sale to benefit the kindergarten fund. This bake sale will take place on Saturday, Sept. 15, at the Mokena Meat Market at 155 East Front street. The baked goods will consist of all home made products donated by the women of Arbury Hills, and will specialize in breads and breakfast rolls, as well as the usual cakes, pies and cookies. There is also a toy sale scheduled for November. This will be the second annual sale of toys for Christmas. There will, in addition, be wrapping paper, Christmas cards, and candy on sale during the toy sale. It is being scheduled for the first part of November this year instead of the end of November as last year's sale had been.

The Arbury Hills Baby Sitters Cooperative held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Boothe of 9501 West Elm, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 15.

A this time the secretary's book was turned over to Mrs. Boothe by Mrs. Edward Blecha who had been secretary for the group for the coming month.

Economic Highlights

There is continuing discussion, and continuing controversy, over the state of the relationship between business and the national Administration. Mr. Kennedy's basic attitude toward business was a matter of concern to business leaders during his campaign and at the time of his election. It reached a peak of crisis when he forced steel to withdraw the price increase, using, in the view of many, harsh and arbitrary methods which, it has been feared, could represent a precedent for future actions of a comparable character.

Since then, Mr. Kennedy has gone to some lengths in efforts to try to reassure the business community. At the same time, he has made it clear that he will not hesitate to use the powers of his office to control business when its actions oppose his policies. Thus, the business community is still wary, still uncertain. That is the state of affairs at a time when heavy capital investment is needed to spur a lagging, if not a dormant, economy.

The basic problem, from the business point of view, antedates the Kennedy Administration. Recently a British publication said, "In many respects the American economy is one of the most regulated economies in the free world." A publication of a leading American oil company quoted this, observing: "And altho we may consider this an astonishing appraisal of a country that has long been regarded as the citadel of competition and unshackled capitalism, it points up sharply the direction in which we are moving today."

The magazine went on to elaborate the point: "The truth is that the concept of competition is under attack, and that government regulation of business is growing. Businessmen are seriously concerned over the trend. Some 500 of them meeting in New York City recently, wrestled a full day with the problems of how to operate a business competitively today without being indicted under one or more interpretations of the antitrust laws."

Two Must Go Together

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is one of the many groups which favors substantial tax reductions as a spur to lagging business.

At the same time, the Chamber emphasized the need for an accompanying rigid economy program in government. In its view, cuts of more than $5 billion could be made in the budget for fiscal 1963 without harm to any essential program or service.

The Chamber's tax reduction plan involves several steps: A cut in top bracket individual income tax rates from 91 per cent to 65 per cent;

The word "interpretation" is the operative one in this connection. No one is foolish enough to object to prohibition of monopoly and price gouging. But there is no doubt that government lawyers concerned with antitrust law enforcement have, in specific instance after specific instance, attempted to carry the intent of these laws to extremes. Proof of that is found in the fact that numbers of government antitrust actions, including some outstandingly important ones, have lost in the courts and, on occasion, brought biting critical comment from federal judges. But, before the end is reached, years of litigation may go by, at heavy cost in money and resources to the parties concerned. And newly proposed laws would give still more power to various enforcement and regulatory agencies. One, for instance, would authorize the Federal Trade Commission to issue a "cease and desist" order to any company which, in its judgement, is following an "unfair competitive practice". This order would ban the practice until the matter was decided in court, no matter how long it took. So, in effect, this would place upon the company the burden of disproving the charge, rather than requiring the FTC to prove its case. That certainly seems to go squarely against the judicial principle that a person is deemed innocent until proven guilty.

What, then, does the businessman seek and need? The magazine states it this way: "What he needs most of all, in the face of mounting competition both at home and from abroad, are some clear and reasonably unambiguous guidelines that encourage competitive performance. This would not be a boon merely to business, but to all America. For when the nation's businessmen can stop expending their energy on efforts to interpret the conflicting signals of their masters in government and instead devote their full talent to providing better goods and services at lower costs, the whole country will profit."

splitting of the lowest individual tax bracket, with a 15 per cent rate on the lower portion; proportionate adjustment of the rates between the maximum and the minimum; reduction of the corporate tax rate from the present 52 per cent to 47 per cent. The result would be a spur to consumer spending and, more important in the long run, stimulated capital investment by enterprise. This is the source of more and better jobs--just as it is the source of more tax revenues in the future.

But--a big cut in taxes without a cut in spending could prove disastrous.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

TV is getting a lot of credit these days--and rightfully so--for its aid to education but let us not forget that the radio and the juke box have also played a part.

Many foreigners coming to our shores have made good use of popular radio programs and phonograph records in learning English.

"I listen every day, all day to radio," a tailor who came from central Europe told us once, "and she helps me with my words."

And apparently he suffered no ill effects. If listening all day to radio gave him a headache or that tired, let down feeling, he knew how to cope with it. The commercials took care of that--prescribing the remedies for each and every symptom.

By the end of a year he could make his way around a drug store, buy groceries, order drinks in a saloon, buy furniture or an automobile--all by name and without pantomime.

In a way one is better off using radio to pick up some of this than to follow TV. One could get some funny notions about anatomy in following the commercials devoted to the treatment of headache or an upset stomach if he gets the message by video.

On the other hand one can pick up a lot of odd words and phrases from the radio today. Few radio stations carry anything other than news and music anymore.

Some years ago the air was filled with the problems of young widows, old widows, career gals (young and old), teenage gals and their male counterparts. TV has some of the same today but most women are unable to watch TV in daylight hours unless they let the housework go by the board. With the radio, however, one could listen and work. The foreigner listening to the soap operas must have figured out an oddball lot indeed if he figured that such shows reflected life in these United States.

It seems that those not suffering from an incurable disease were in the toils of an incurable sense of frustration or waiting for transportation to the loony bin. And problems?

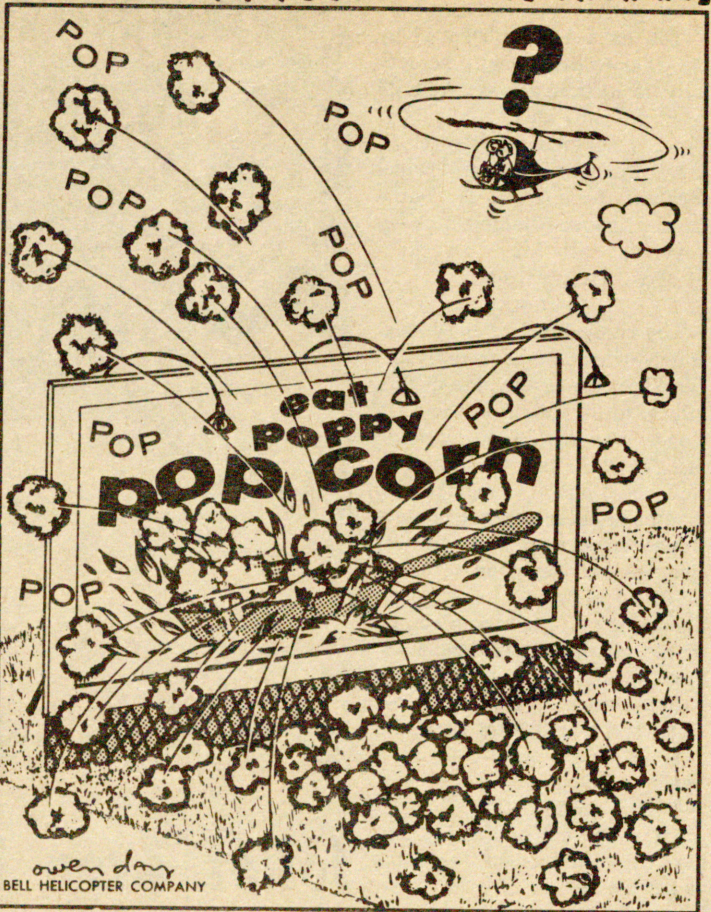

John is in a quandary--here he is happily married or as happily as one with his neuroses could be--and he discovers he has a little problem--John is really nuts about his wife and life is beginning to look like a bowl of cherries when up pops an old wife and it turns out that something went blooey with the divorce and she is still his wife and would like to move in. At the same time John hears from an old flame that he met while in the service and she too has decided to marry him. To further complicate things one of the girls at the office where John works is getting ideas and the woman who runs the corner saloon would also be more than a confidante to him. As one can see this makes for a pretty busy day for John and doesn't leave much room for talking--the women do most of the talking. John endeavors to remain non-committal and makes a simple uh huh or unh uh serve wherever possible.

Of course John isn't in as bad shape as some of the other heroes of these continued scripts. The worst they can get him on now is bigamy and maybe a little disorderly conduct but if they keep nagging him there's no telling what he may do. Whether it is Tom, Dick, Harry or just plain Bill they are never out of trouble...maybe they have a wife that is an alcoholic, a daughter that is a drug addict and a son with a switch blade habit that eventually will put him in the electric chair. Or maybe everyone is missing three or four marbles.

In the course of the dialog the characters endeavor to explain why they do the things they do but as yet none of them has put his finger on the cause--the sticky, sweet, patient heroine who suffers with a smile and is always ready to forgive whether Ed runs off with another woman, blows the family bank account gambling or smacks her with a ball bat. Being around a pollyanna day after day would eventually spook most anyone.

They use up a tremendous amount of words, however, and what makes it a good medium for the study of English by a foreigner is the repetition. One may tune in today and find the characters talking--maybe little Tessie is going to have to undergo surgery, Tom is pretty sick with something they haven't diagnosed yet, and big Tessie is ailing too, whether Ed can get to little Tessie's bedside before the police pick him up another major problem. Tune in next week, next month, six months or even a year from now and you will find the same characters in the same room using the same words with little Tessie still slated for surgery but so far they haven't been able to get here as far as the hospital door; the doctors haven't decided what's the matter with Tom, big Tessie is about the same, still ailing and whether Ed will reach little Tessie's bedside before police pick him up is still a big question. You see someone looted the bank where Ed work. It was really the president but Ed was blamed for it because someone saw him carrying out a couple of suitcases full of money and went busting off to talk it over with Tessie. If only they had stuck around long enough they would have seen the president pick up the suit cases. Then the diabolical cad sent Ed off to deliver a note to the president's granddaughter in Shanghai, on a slow boat yet, so naturally the cops think Ed clouted the cash. That part, however, will not be brought out in detail until next year.

Naturally some of this style is going to rub off on the listener who is trying to learn English which accounts for the fact that one hears some of the new citizens going around talking like a second or third road company lead or heavy.

I know a man who owns a restaurant who learned his English from listening to juke box records and until one gets accustomed to it it sounds a bit odd to hear a man talking jive with a hillbilly inflection and a Greek accent.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND
As according to forecasts of analysts favored by this column, we did not expect the recession which was so widely predicted. A number of the more conservative analysts did not expect any substantial change in the business pattern - either up or down.

There has been a keen realization by students of industrial development, that continual wage increases added to the tax load, were a heavy drag on profits to the point where much of the productive machinery could not be replaced due to lack of profits with which to finance replacements.

It may well be that the steel price altercation with the Administration, will prove to have been beneficial. It proved that confidence of business in the government, is very necessary and close cooperation essential. Most analysts of business, have long been aware of the fact that the present tax bite is slowing growth of the economy. Recognition of this fact is now coming from leaders of government and labor. In the past, it has often been poor judgement for political or labor leaders to express such ideas even tho they knew them as truths.

Leaders in the field of politics and labor must avoid getting too far ahead of their constituents or they are likely to be replaced. They must be adept at recognition of movements in the thinking of their rank and file or be in position to control their thoughts.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman Martin reports that the business picture as reflected that July figures do not confirm a turn down in business activity. Durable goods had a 5 per cent increase in new orders in July. This "leading indicator" had been turning down each month except May.

Too many financial services and commentators desire to be first in announcing any major market move either up or down. A few services have been predicting a serious business recession for quite some time and yet seem to earn enough to continue mailing their predictions of dire things to come.

It would, however, seem wise for investors to move out of the cyclical stocks into those which have earnings that are rather stable. The auto industry is now having a banner year. However, it does not seem likely on the basis of experience, that next year will be as good. The automobile appliance business has, however, been proving itself to be an industry of considerable stability.

COOK COUNTY FARM ADVISER
TINLEY PARK - 532-4369

I just received some preliminary results of state fair awards by 4-H'ers from this county. In the advanced entomology, John Thompson, Park Forest, was 8th, and Marshall Mendelsohn was 6th. Charles Ludmer, Park Forest, received a blue ribbon for his photography exhibit. In the beginning entomology class, John Schuricht, Park Forest, was 3rd, and Norman Siekman, Tinley Park, was 6th. Michael Frost's electricity exhibit was 5th.

Going out of the hoe era, into the age of modern herbicides, makes reading label instructions extremely important. Only small amounts of the powerful modern herbicides are needed per acre. The old adage that if a little is good, a lot more is better, just does not apply. We have reports of several instances where oat fields and soybeans have been damaged from use of a herbicide on last year's crop of corn. Unfortunately, on some of the cases reported here, the herbicides were used at the correct and recommended rate.

While talking about the use of chemicals in agriculture, we are quite concerned that many articles reaching the public today emphasize only the ill effects of such products, and very little, if any mention is made of the number of benefits accruing to the public through the proper use of chemicals in agriculture.

riculture. All too often, unmentioned is the luxury of having an abundance of safe, nutritious, wholesome food, healthful living conditions, and continued high productivity of crops.

Grasshoppers are quite a problem this year, not only on the farms but around the home-grounds. Grasshoppers are killed quite readily by the use of dieldrin, toxaphene and sevin. These chemicals provide control for several days. Diazinon, dibrom and malathion kill grasshoppers quite quickly, but control does not last as long.

A. A. Wicklein, farm adviser in Will County, has advised me that southern Cook county farmers are welcome at their annual Livestock meeting to be held Sept. 17, at 8 p.m. at the Will county Farm Bureau building, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet. These outlook meetings deal with a forecast of the future for livestock, dairy and grain, taking into consideration both anticipated future prices and costs of production. This information would be very helpful in making plans for next year's farming operation.

Several of you have asked about winter wheat varieties. Recommended varieties for this area are Pawnee, Ponka, and two new ones - Ottawa and Omaha. The latter two have a better milling quality due to higher gluten content. Supplies of seed of these two varieties may be somewhat limited, although I am quite confident if you take the time to look, seed can be found. Remember! Certified seed is always a good buy!

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL
ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

Every homeowner at one time or another finds it necessary to buy grass seed and establish a lawn. Most people do not have the time to become experts on turf and are often misled by seed salesmen who are only interested in making a sale. The following rules are from the Brooklyn Botanical Garden Handbook on Lawns and is an excellent guide for unexperienced seed purchasers.

1. Do not buy the cheapest seed unless you want a temporary lawn. The old axiom, "you get what you pay for," is not necessarily true. In the case of cheap lawn seed, you often get less for your money than if you buy high quality seed.
2. Use grass varieties that are adapted to this area, or to the use to which you will put them. Kentucky bluegrass, fine leaved fescue, and bents are suited to northern Illinois. Zoysia, centipede grass or Bermuda are not well suited except for special uses.
3. Avoid seed that features sensational claims.
4. Avoid seed that hides the analysis. A seedsmen is proud of good seed. The percent of each variety of seed, the percent of germination of each variety, and the test date should be clearly indicated. If the test date is over nine months previous, or the germination percentage is below 75%, the seed is not dependable. When seed is offered at considerably below the going price, these factors should be checked.
5. Don't rely on your neighbor for advice. You will probably just repeat his mistakes.
6. Realize that seed is only one part - although very important - of the process of establishing a good lawn. For best results, give the seed a good chance by careful preparation of the seedbed and proper attention to watering the seed as it germinates.
7. Secure a good lawn maintenance booklet and follow the suggestions in it. An excellent publication is available from my office at the Extension Service Office, 210 North Dunton Avenue, Arlington Heights, or ask your seed dealer for one.
8. When in doubt, consult your farm adviser, or an established reputable nurseryman.

By following the above rules most of the pitfalls in buying grass seed can be avoided.

Are you wondering about starting a new lawn this year? By starting now you will give the seed a chance to develop a dense stand before cold weather. The first step in establishing a successful lawn should be a soil test. A test tells you if the soil is acid or alkaline or if it needs plant foods. Before seeding is the best time to correct soil conditions.

The seed to use depends largely upon the conditions under which the grass must grow. Some grasses tolerate dry, sandy conditions, while others can be grown in heavy, moist soil. A little extra effort in preparing the seedbed will pay big dividends. We suggest these steps:

1. Apply organic matter and lime if needed.
2. Plow or rototill 6 inches deep.
3. Rake or disk starter fertilizer into the upper 2 inches of soil. Apply 10 pounds of 10-6-4 or similar analysis fertilizer per 1,000 sq. ft.
4. Rake before seeding, break all clumps of soil or remove them.
5. Seed the kind and amount of grass needed, depending on soil conditions, exposure to sun and shade and the lawn texture wanted.
6. Rake lightly to cover the seed.
7. Roll to firm seed into the soil and to stabilize the seedbed.
8. Mulch slopes with either burlap or straw to keep seed from washing.
9. Water lightly using a fine spray. A No. 10 hand sprinkler attached to a garden hose gives good results.
10. Watering plays an important part in successfully establishing a new lawn. Soaking the top one or two inches will be sufficient, since the seed is at the top. After the seed germinates, gradually increase the amount of water and decrease the frequency. Then continue watering, if necessary, until the grass has been mowed at least twice.

Workshop For Arbury

The school term will begin early for the teachers of Arbury Hills school this year. Altho the children do not have to report to school until Tuesday, Sept. 4, the teachers are gathering at the school Thursday Aug. 30, for a workshop under the direction of Supt. H. James Wrath.

The one day meeting will serve several purposes. The superintendent and four teachers will be joining the staff for the first time and a get acquainted session is necessary to a good start this fall, he pointed out.

It will afford an opportunity for the staff to become familiar with the superintendent and his expectations for the coming year. School policy will be reviewed, the school calendar examined and the daily schedule discussed.

Probably most important will be the time spent planning solutions to the crowded building conditions. Considerable co-operative teaching is necessary this year, particularly in the first grade where two classes are arranged to take care of 46 pupils; and in the seventh and eighth grade where a total of 48 youngsters will be housed in one room.

Letters To The Editor

ENTITLED TO OUR OWN

Dear Sir:
There are many "advanced thinkers" who believe that we, in the United States, control a greater portion of the world's wealth than any other people on earth. They are correct, we do.

This is true because we are the composite of many nationalities and all races of people. Our country is rich in natural resources and the climate is ideal for practically any purpose. Being blessed with these God given ingredients plus the character, initiative and ambition to make the most of what we have, furthermore, we are aggressive in order to fulfill our desire to forever improve our standard of living. This combination makes us a great and wealthy nation.

Now, that we have attained a way of life, known only to us, Americans, we are accused of being greedy. Our record proves otherwise. Our accusers are those who POSSESS NOT, the necessary qualities or blessings, as do we. They are attempting to rob us of the fruits of our labor. Those who are not guilty of this thought, think that we should help the under-privileged to reach our pinnacle of success, through gifts, loans etc. In the past, most of our loans have been proven to be gifts.

We, Americans are only 180,000,000 in number, should we divide all our possessions with those who have less than ourselves, who are 2,000,000,000 plus in number, the prorata part would be, maybe $5, for each.

This would not help, these unfortunates a great deal but would reduce us to their level. This resulting situation probably would be acceptable to everyone except us.

Would these "one world thinkers" give up their money, cars, boats, homes and their future, just to save their guilty feeling for having so much? The answer is, NO. Yet, they expect you and me, to do so. Proof of this is very clear to see, when our national debt is considered and the plans or schemes, being developed which will further increase this debt, are studied.

My opinion is, that these givers of our substance should practice what they preach. If they do not approve of the present government and our prosperity, they should seek a passport. Let them divest themselves of all possessions and go some place where their consciences will not bother them.

Many of us, love our country and wish to continue to enjoy the benefits earned by the sweat of our brows. We wish to retain our FREEDOM and LIBERTY which we have fought for. Our prayer is, that we may be allowed to pass these heritages to our children and the future generations.

If you love your children and wish to insure their safety and the same opportunities which you had as a child--Vote for CONSERVATIVES. Get rid of the dreamers and saboteurs. They are "NUTS". Do you not agree?

Patriotically yours,
HENRY W. HICKS

Read John 21:15-19

Lovest thou me? . . . Feed my sheep. (John 21:16)

We have eight small grandchildren, and my husband is a wonderful grandpa. About twice a month he sends each child a picture post card. When he goes to see them, he takes them presents--all alike.

After watching the rapturous greeting given him by one of the grandchildren -- a bewitching little maid of four, with big, blue eyes and a mass of golden curls--I laughingly taunted him that she was his favorite.

"No," he replied, "I love them all alike, but she shows her love for me more than do the others."

I feel sure that our Lord loved all His disciples equally, including Judas. Yet it is said of John that he was "the disciple whom Jesus loved." I wonder if it was because John showed his love to his Master more than the others did.

God loves us all equally, whatever the color of our skin, whether we are sinners or saints. But I think it makes a difference in our relation to Him when we love Him and show our love.

PRAYER: O Lord, Thou who dost love impartially because Thou art divine, we are grateful for Thy love for us. Help us to increase our love for Thee that we may not falter or fail in following in the Master's footsteps. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I can gladden the heart of my heavenly Father by showing my love for Him today.

Junior Library Aides Entertained

A tea honoring the Junior Volunteers of the Mokena library was held at the home of Mrs. Phillip Lenz, Mokena Book Club President, Friday, August 17th. The Volunteers, working under the direction of Mrs. Rudolph Englehardt, have staffed the Mokena Library during its afternoon hours this summer. The group consisted of Linda Clark, Marla Fant, Kathy Haislet, Sandy Homering, Linda

Istel and June Swanberg. These girls volunteered their time to keep the library operating on Wednesday afternoons from 3:00 to 5:00. Book Club members staffed the evening hours. In expressing the appreciation of the Book Club for these Junior Volunteers, Mrs. Lenz said, "We are deeply grateful for the unselfish efforts of these girls and would like also to have some Senior Volunteers from the women of the community. There is a vital need for workers during the afternoon library hours. Any woman donating a few hours of her time would be performing a real community service." Interested area women may call Mrs. Robert Olson at 5268 for more details on the work. As head Librarian Mrs. Olson directs and schedules the work in the library.

Mokena Council Adopts Appropriation Ordinance

The Mokena village board adopted its annual appropriation ordinance at its meeting Tuesday night which provides for expenditure totaling $58,381 for general corporate purposes. Possible expenditures for the water and sewer department which are met from its revenues total $43,495.

For general corporate purposes $31,851 would be raised thru taxes and $26,530 from other sources. However, it is not expected that taxes will raise the amount set forth in the ordinance.

No taxes are levied to meet the expenses of the water and sewer department. The general corporate items do provide payment of $3,000 on principal of general obligation bonds and $3,681 for interest on same. The village did use some general obligation bonds, which are paid off thru taxes, to meet costs of the sewer but the bulk of that cost came from the sale of revenue bonds.

The revenue bonds are charges on the receipts of the water and sewer department and in the coming year $13,625 will be paid on the interest of such bonds and $3,000 on the principal.

The ordinance also would allow the village to spend up to $20,000 of motor fuel tax monies on the improvement and repair of arterial streets and state highways within the corporate limits, including traffic lights. Such items would be described under a code or title which may be designated by the state highway department. The fiscal year of the village begins on the first of July and ends on the 30th of June each calendar year.

Little Old Wine Maker' You, Has Uncle's O.K.

Want to build yourself a little wine?

You have to supply the grapes and Uncle Sam's nephews in the revenue department will furnish the permit—free, provided you meet the requirements.

First off you have to be the head of a family—name only is sufficient— which eliminates bachelors right off the bat, and you are limited to turning out 200 gallons without paying any tax.

One has to be the head of a family, apparently, because this 200 gallons of tax free wine is for family use.

Oh, yes—if you plan on making a batch of wine for your own use be sure to tell the revenue department your intentions and get a permit. Applications, in duplicate, should be submitted at least five days before you start squeezing grapes.

If approved the permit is good for a year, from July 1 to June 30.

According to the regulations an unmarried person can get a permit if he can show he is head of a family. On the other hand a married man who is separated from his family is barred from this free wine making deal.

Failure to get a permit could land one in the jug if caught by the revenooers and not the kind of jug used to hold the stuff either.

Some wonder why the government didn't make it 208 gallons—then one could have an even four gallons of wine a week. Then one could wash in the stuff.

NOW'S THE TIME

...for a once-a-year buy on just the one you want!

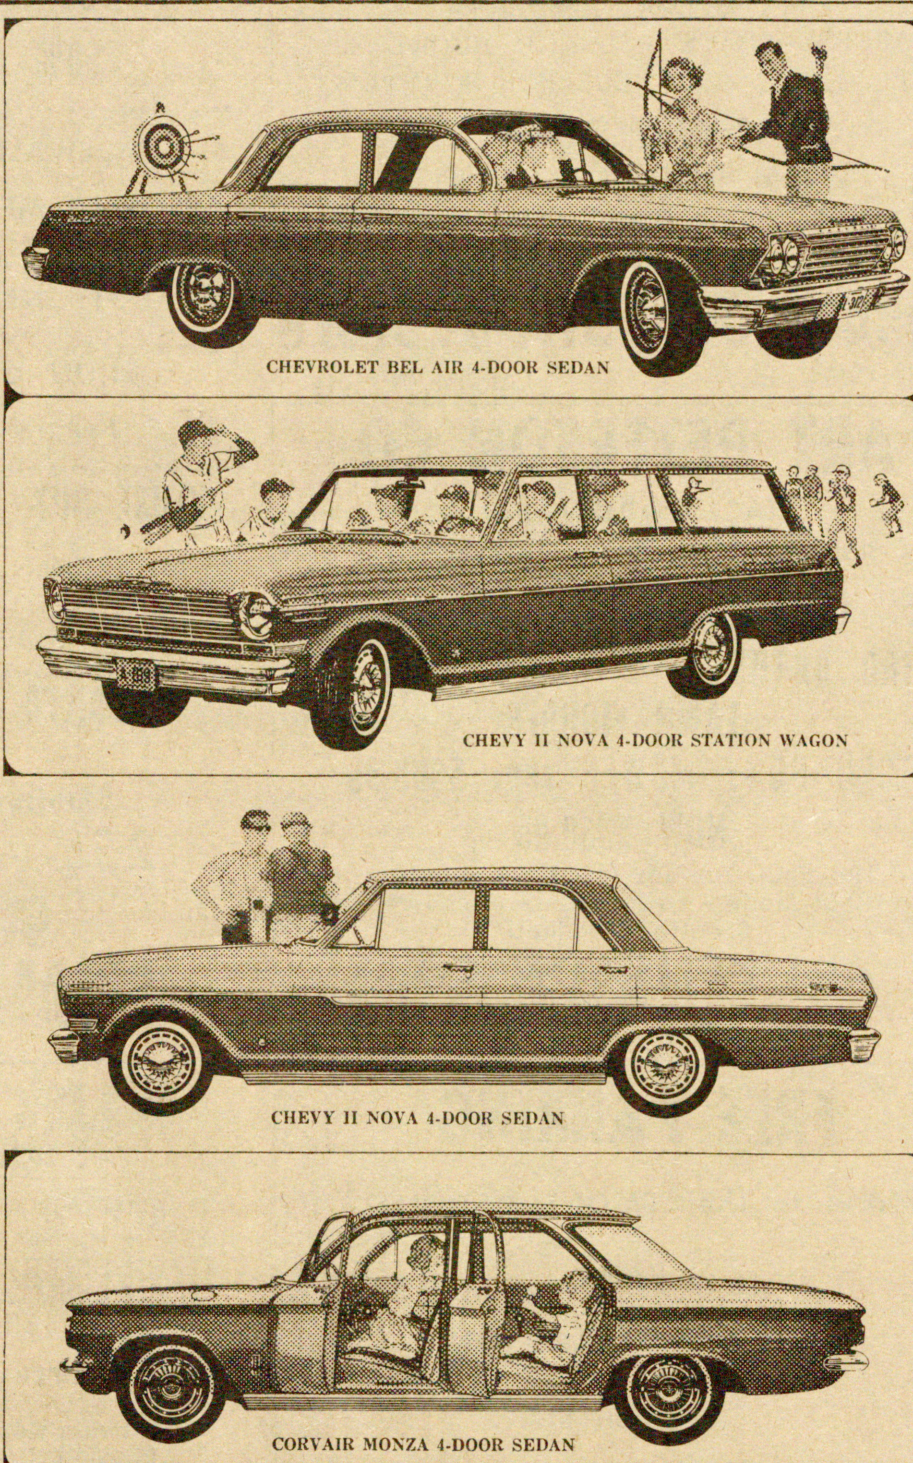

Getting ready for a vacation trip couldn't be easier: just pick a Chevrolet, pack your family and go. And that first part is easiest of all with what your Chevrolet dealer has to pick from. The Jet-smooth Chevrolet, America's favorite family car, with a ride that only seems expensive; the Chevy II, about as lively and luxurious as you can get for a low, low price; the sporty Corvair, a rear-engine beauty that just refuses to be run-of-the-mill. One of these 4-doors (or a two-door for that matter) is sure to fit your family and budget just fine. So okay—what are you waiting for?

Registration is to begin at 1:00 and youngsters will be dismissed afterwards between 1:30 and 1:45.

Regular class work will begin the next day.

Parents are reminded that kindergarten, first grade and fifth grade pupils must have had physical examinations and bring proof of same when they register at school. The physicals include dental examination.

To be eligible for entry in kindergarten or first grade a youngster must be 5 and 6 years old, respectively, by Dec. 1. Parents may pay book rental fees at the school office between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. from Aug. 27 thru Aug. 31. Fees not paid then must be paid on Sept. 4 at the time of registration, school authorities stated.

Insurance and milk are optional. Insurance on pupils from kindergarten thru the sixth is $1.50; for pupils in the seventh and eighth grades the premium is $2. The fee for milk is the same as in the past, $5 for the entire school year, for all pupils.

Frankfort 5277

Ann Rutledge school, Dist. 55-C that serves the Lincoln Estates community, will open Sept. 4 but only for a brief session—an hour in fact, from 9 to 10 a.m.

At that time pupils will be provided with bulletins informing parents of the fees and collection dates for book rentals, insurance and milk service. This year Rutledge pupils will find themselves in a newly remodeled building. There is also an addition which was added in the past several months.

Plans are being made for the formal dedication of the new addition on Sunday, Nov. 11, as the school board's part in observing American education week, it was announced by Supt. Bernard S. Kandyba.

Mrs. Jacob Hostert entertained nine members of her Adult Sunday school class at a luncheon in her home Thursday.

One hundred new books for children have been added to the shelves of the Frankfort library. The childrens books are purchased on the recommendation of accepted authorities in this field, it was explained.

Dr. and Mrs. Irving Rudman have started a personal plan of donating a certain amount each month to buy two or three childrens books. It was pointed out the plan is not patented and anyone is welcome to use it. Books for children are much in demand, library workers report. It is estimated that 30% of the village population make use of the library, which is considered a large number in these days of TV and hurry-and-go.

Invite Artists To Join TB Seal Design Contest

Chicago area artists are invited to participate in the national contest for the design of the 1964 Christmas Seal.

Award for the winning entry this year will be $1,000 a $500 boost from last year's competition.

Deadline for the designs is Oct. 1, 1962.

The announcement is made by The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County (The Christmas Seal Agency) which states that it will not hold a local contest for the new seal design this year.

Specifications for this year's entries can be obtained by writing to: Christmas Seal Division, National Tuberculosis Association, 1790 Broadway, New York, 19, New York.

Briefly, the 1964 Christmas

Seal design must incorporate the double-bar cross symbol in red; contain four colors, and be of poster type.

The designs will be judged on the basis of design excellence, emotional appeal and salability.

As has been the custom for over 50 years, the 1964 Christmas Seal will spearhead the annual fund campaign. Reproduced billions of times, the design will be used in all media in addition to the use of the Seals themselves in all letters and packages in every part of the United States, the Canal Zone, Guam and Puerto Rico.

Eminent artists who have designed Christmas Seals include Howard Pyle, Ben Nash, Thomas M. Cleland, Steven Dohanos, Andre Dugo and Elmer Jacobs.

Continue Court Fight on 1 1/2-Mile Rights of Cities

The hearing on the fight in Superior Court of three Cook County villages and the Illinois Municipal League to regain 1 1/2 mile extra-territorial rights from the county was continued Monday to Sept. 11.

Oral arguments, scheduled to be presented before Superior Judge Walker Butler, had to be postponed because former assistant state's attorney Richard Filler, who has been handling the case, has gone into private practice. Additional time is needed, said the state's attorneys office, for another attorney to become familiar with the case.

A judgment is being sought by Glenview, Park Forest and Park Ridge, along with the Illinois Municipal League, to correct the interpretation of HB 1668 by States Attorney Daniel Ward.

According to Ward's interpretation, development of the 1 1/2 mile area contiguous to municipalities, previously controlled by the villages, would go to Cook County. Attorney General William Clark, however, has ruled that under the bill such control remains with the municipalities. The Sept. 11 hearing will be before Judge John Lupe.
